

A NOTE TO OUR PATIENTS

Dr. Fisher is a nationally and internationally recognized physician, surgeon, speaker, educator and innovator. As a result of his accomplishments, Dr. Fisher is often sought out by companies in the ophthalmic industry to help develop, improve, and evaluate new products, which may lead to better care for our patients. Dr. Fisher has a consulting relationship with a number of these companies and is paid for the services that he provides to them, as is common for physicians of his experience and stature.

However, Dr. Fisher is free to use, and will use, whatever product, from whatever company, that will best help you, his patient. Therefore no conflict of interest exists between his treatment of you and his relationship with these companies. Dr. Fisher believes that having an ethical partnership with industry provides benefits to his patients by allowing early access to the very best technologies and in turn assist in influencing the development of new and needed products and treatments.

Should you have any questions about Dr. Fisher's relationships with these corporations please feel free to email him directly at bfisher@eyecarenow.com.
